

A Ten-Minute, Four-Law Diagnostic for What Your Bible Study — and Your Week — Are Really Built On.

Are you actually building discernment — or collecting verses and calling it study?

BEFORE YOU BEGIN

Do not answer for the person you intend to become. Answer from the evidence of the last seven days — your calendar, your screen time, your actual choices. This is not a devotional. It's a mirror. If you answer honestly, something in you is going to get exposed — that's the point.

Calendar

Screen Time

This Week's Choices

NAME

DATE STARTED

— STEP ONE — THE EVIDENCE AUDIT

The Ten-Hour Reality Check

Sarah had ten hours of free time this week. Two went to prayer. One to Scripture. Five to Netflix. That's eight. Where did the other two go? Now do the same audit — for your own week.

SARAH'S TEN HOURS — a completed example, not your form

P	P	B	N	N	N	N	N
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	--	--

■ PRAYER × 2 ■ BIBLE × 1 ■ ENTERTAINMENT × 5 □ UNACCOUNTED × 2

NOW ACCOUNT FOR YOUR TEN HOURS — this part is yours to fill in

Prayer

when did it actually happen?

Scripture Study

actual study — not briefly reading a verse

Entertainment

streaming, gaming, recreational viewing

Social Media

use your phone's screen-time report

Other

name it specifically

Unaccounted

10 minus everything above — the remainder is your unaccounted time

"Confidence is not discernment. Evidence has to be examined." — Where did your unaccounted hours go?

Your Foundation Diagnosis

Answer each question using evidence from your last seven days — not what you intended to do. Choose one response in every row. Any row where you select the last response is a layer that needs attention.

ADD — Did prayer and Scripture receive deliberate priority?

- ☐ Yes — I scheduled time for them.
- ☐ Sometimes — I got to them after other activities.
- ☐ No — they mostly received my leftovers.

SUBTRACT — Did you act on the thing you identified as needing pruning?

- ☐ Yes — I released or removed it.
- ☐ Started — I took a real step to reduce it.
- ☐ No — I am still protecting it.

MULTIPLY — Did you repeat a faith-building practice consistently?

- ☐ Consistent — I completed it three or more times.
- ☐ Sporadic — I completed it once or twice.
- ☐ Absent — I did not complete it.

DIVIDE — Did you test one belief using Scripture in context?

- ☐ Tested — I read the surrounding context and compared supporting passages.
- ☐ Partially tested — I checked a verse but didn't investigate further.
- ☐ Not tested — I relied mainly on what I already thought or had been taught.

Choose Your First Repair

Look at the four answers you selected. If you selected the last answer in any row, that layer needs attention. If more than one does, choose the one you feel the most resistance to changing — that's where you start.

ADD

SUBTRACT

MULTIPLY

DIVIDE

The evidence from my last seven days is:

XXXX

The first thing I need to change is:

The action I will take within the next 24 hours is: